our cashier has just confirmed the payment

We want you to know the full payment for the flight activation ticket fee for your puppy has been confirmed. The journey of your puppy has been activated and your puppy will be on the Today's flight to your home location

Dear Client, while the pets inspectors were doing the last and final check up of your puppy, they realized that your puppy does not have a valid traveling thermal electronic crate. This puppy (LILY) must have a valid traveling thermal electronic crate. This crate is very important for the transportation of any animal. According to the international law of animal exportation, no animal is allowed to travel without this crate from Arizona to your home location due to the following reasons below.

Thermal electronic crate : KC05

Price: $850

This crate has the following importance to the Puppy:

- 1) The thermal electronic crate maintains the temperature of this puppy while on air.
- 2) The thermal electronic crate helps to protect this puppy from change of weather.
- 3) The thermal electronic crate helps the puppy to be comfortable during the delivery process
- 4) The thermal electronic crate helps keeps this puppy to be stress-free.

Dear customer, you do not have to border because we still have available thermal electronic crates here in our animal pet section to rent. The thermal electronic crate for your puppy will cost you 850 Dollars. You are only renting the crate because the crate will be taken back from you as soon as your puppy is delivered at your home under your valid home address. This money you are paying as a deposit also will be given back (Refunded) to you at the point of delivery of your puppy including the $850 for the refundable traveling thermal electronic crate. Dear customer we want you to know that this money we are asking you to pay is just as a deposit because all your money will be given back to you at the point of delivery at your home in full amount by our assigned delivery agents.

Dear client, we have had similar cases like this yesterday, the other customer rectified their situation and their pets are on their way for delivery to their various homes .

NB::: You have to know that this money you are depositing is for the renting of the thermal traveling electronic crate. The $850 you are paying for the thermal traveling electronic crate is 100% refundable once the puppy arrives your home in cash. This is because the crate will be taken back from you at the point of delivery and your money refunded.

Dear Client, you should hurry and deposit this money for the renting of the thermal electronic crate so that your puppy can be prepared for the flight and be on board the flight to leave for the available flight this afternoon. You will have to be at home so as to receive your puppy from the delivery agents in charge for the home delivery alongside with your money in full amount. Your puppy will take off here at our delivery agency department directly to your home airport and location once this deposit is fully made. Your puppy is now pending for delivery. You should hurry and make the deposit of the money so that your puppy can be prepared for the flight and be put on board the plane to your home location .

Note::: Due to the time differences and temperature changes between the departing and arriving airports and different terminals, note that the crate provided by your sender was disapproved when we were conducting our last check up and our tests because it does not meet the airline approved standards. Your puppy must only be shipped in a temperature regulating thermal electronic crate. So you are required to pay a caution and renting fee for the a crate before your puppy can be shipped to your home.. The renting fee for the thermal electronic crate is $200 and the caution fee is $650 making it $850 in which all the money will be 100% refunded (Given) back to you at the point of delivery alongside your pet.
