

Disclaimer: We provide services to change your mailing address with post office. Once you move, all of your mails will be forwarded to the new address. For a single charge, including the post office $1 Filing charge, your new address updation will be requested from United States post office. To save your time, we will notify 25+ organizations about the change, which isn't provided by the post office. We also provide Ebook to help you in avoiding frivolous penalties. You may also get several moving-related coupons, and access to unique offers depending upon your relocation. ExpressAddressChange is a private entity, facilitating the request for address change for its customers and isn't affiliated with US Post office or any other government agency or organization. We act as authorised agent to file the address change to the post office. We have a 45-day refund policy in case of non-submission and/or incorrect submission of address change. Please contact support@expressaddresschange.us to request this courtesy. Users submitting their change of address request may also be presented offers for discounted products and services related to the moving process. Users submitting their change of address request may also be presented offers for discounted products and services related to the moving process. By utilizing our service you agree to allow Secure24 Authorized ADT Dealership to text, call, and email you with ADT home security promotions. For this service we charge a $79.95 one-time fee. The accuracy of the information is the responsibility of the user. This service is owned by BlueSeal Tech Inc. Any dispute will be handled in the US.
