READY RIDES DELIVERY

Hello, Customer
THIS IS URGENT

Your puppy is currently in Philadelphia, PA, as per your ETA. The next flight has been scheduled to depart soon, however, the Puppy will not be able to be on board without a special delivery crate due to the tremendous change in climate and temperatures along its travel route. This is a serious emergency issue because these puppies are only a few weeks old and tiny which may not survive the belly of the plane throughout this shipping process. We recommend you pick any one of the available carriers in this email before we proceed.

Because this puppy is so far out and you cannot provide for your own personal pet carrier, then you may use our Carrier Service (which means you are renting a pet carrier from us). Renting a pet carrier from us will cost you as much as the various crates below and all sums are totally refundable upon delivery via Check if you decide not to keep the crate. (partially refunded if you keep it).

For more information regarding the pet carrier,

For This Mode Of Travel :

- Ideally, pet(s) should be less than 20 lb.
  - pets exceeding 20 lb. can be approved however additional fees apply (please call to have larger pets approved)
  - for overweight pets, we will need to provide the pet carrier (fees apply)
- Only soft-sided carriers are permitted and must not exceed 18L x 12H x 12W

Please remember our transports/delivery are done on a first-come-first-served basis. So if you want us to maintain the flight departing today, you have to be fast in getting a pet carrier for your pet.
