Dear Simone,

It was a great joy and honour to receive your e-mail. I will do my very best to present myself to you, and please ask me, if I left something out that you a reply to. You can ask me anything, I don't mind.

Well, my name is Hanne, not the best name to pronounce in French, I know :-). I was born in 1972, so I am 49 years old. I grew up with my parents, and two brothers, who are 6 and 10 years older than me. My father, who I was very close to,, died in 2009, due to collateral diseases to his diabetes, I still have my mom, who is 79 and with whom, I have a very close relationship . I grew up in a very small village in the northern part of Denmark, where my father had a small transport business with lorries, my mom stayed at home taking care of house and children

I am educated as a trilingual secretary in English, German and French. I speak and write German and English fluently. I read French and understand about 95% of it. My writing skills are bit rusty, but I hoped that you perhaps would make a deal with me that we could - at least try to correspond in French? So that I could improve my French skills? That is very important for me to improve my French skills fast for the sake of the whole family.

My speaking level is unfortunately very basic, because I have not used the language for many, many years, and I have always had a wish to become fluent in French as well :-)
 However, I guess Olivier will have a harder time than me, if he has to learn Danish :):). I work as a Project Manager Assistant in a small company, where I take care of travels, visas and much more for supervisors, who we send out in the entire world.

As a person I am very calm and relaxed, I am very shy at first, but when I open up, I am a dedicated and loving to family and friends. I have a very few friends that I have had, I have for more than 30 years. I am strong and hardworking woman, who is used to take care of herself. I love to go handball games.

Recently, handball club beat Paris Saint-Germain in Champions League! I love to take my dog for a walk in the forest or at the beach, I read a lot, I like to watch movies and series, go on small holidays with my daughters, I knit in winter time, I like to make everything in a kitchen and in general take care of my home. All in all, I enjoy the quiet family quiet life. All though I love to travel as well, and visit historic sites, especially London and the Tudor era are my great favourites.

I don't know, if Olivier told you, but then I will. I have recently divorced my husband, who I was married to for 19 years. Nearly all of our marriage he has be ill due to his back, and he has not been able to take care of anything, not even me. But because, we have two beautiful, sweet and clever twin girls, who today are 19, I stayed on, until I suddenly realized that if I were to survive and get a decent life, I needed to leave this marriage, which has been loveless for the past 10 years.
 I progressed the divorce for Olivier's sake. I did not want to start a new life with him, only being separated.

As for my girls, their names are Caroline and Christina, and they are my everything. Christina is studying at a university in Utah, USA and Caroline is working in shop with ladie's clothes. The finished gymnasium this summer, and will start studying at the university next year. I attach a photo of them, so you can see them. I have not told them about Olivier yet, as they are still angry with me for leaving their father.

Well, now to the most important subject of this e-mail, your son. I myself am surprised, how fast our relationship has developed, but I feel like I have known him always, we talk so well together, and please believe me, when I say that I love your son so very much, he fulfills me, and I would follow him everywhere.
 It is not for his great looks, or his beautiful eyes, but his lovable and well-mannered character. I will never ever let him down, but I will stay at side, and support him in anyway I can.

I know, there may be cultural difference North/South Europeans, and all, but I am most definite that we will work them out. I completely trust him, and feel so so close to him already.

And as for Celine, I am ready to embrace her, love and spoil her as my own, and I cannot wait to see her! I am just so nervous, if she can accept me, and will like me.

So, Simone, please don't ever doubt that I am most serious about your son, he has in a very brief time become the very essence of my life.

I will finish this long e-mail now. I hope that I made a good impression of myself, and I would love to come to Marseille with Olivier to see you soon.

With love and affection,

Hanne
