² The precise number of Facebook pages is virtually impossible to establish with certainty. Imposters create scores of new pages daily; other pages are removed by Facebook following user reports or voluntarily retired by scammers when they have completed the scam of a victim or receive too many negative reviews. This means that the total number fluctuates on a daily basis.

³ It is relatively common for imposter accounts to provide contradictory information about occupation and residence across different accounts. For example, Rodrigo Gimenez' occupation is variously given as orthopaedic surgeon, cosmetic surgeon, neurosurgeon, dentist or Professor of Medicine and he is variously employed by the US Army, United Nations, New York Giants, LA Hospital and HKU Business School. In reality, he has a private practice as a cosmetic surgeon in Brazil. The only consistent factoid given across all military accounts is that they claim to be widowed, divorced or single.

Other: Mixed names and profiles

For a variety of reasons, the names used in these profiles cannot be assigned to any specific person. They may lack sufficient detail to make a positive identification, use hybrid names by combining the names of two or more generals, use fake names or rely on a mismatch between the account name and the profile photos or may use multiple names for the same photo. In many instances, the name on the uniform has been air-brushed out contributing to difficulties identifying subjects. However, close examination or certain pages reveals that the real name is often visible on the subject's uniform. To avoid the possibility of double-counting, these pages have been listed separately.

Appendix 1: Multiple pages of General William J Gormley (deceased)

General William J. Gormley [deceased] has at least 74 fake pages (73 profiles and one page) using many aliases. All pages include at least one photograph of the general. General William J Gormley (retired) who passed away in 2013 (See obituary at <https://patch.com/massachusetts/westroxbury/obit-general-william-j-gormley-iii-ret>) and was survived by his wife, Mary R. (Timmerman) and four adult William J. Mary Anne Cronin, Karen J. Burns, Michael J. (B.F.D.) and Michelle E. Gormley. In spite of the fact that his wife was still living, most of these pages claim that he is widowed, divorced or single. And, in spite his demise ten years ago, many of these pages post recent photos of the General in action or having a beer with his army mates.
