

We are an internationally active logistics, import/export, device distribution, trading, and procurement company. We offer a range of services tailored to our clients' needs, providing single or combined solutions. Our approach involves working closely with clients to understand their specific requirements. This allows us to allocate the appropriate resources at the right time, optimizing benefits while minimizing costs. Our strong belief and passion for what we do drive our investments in shareholdings of companies across multiple countries.

Our team of experts operates as an international network, providing comprehensive purchasing, procurement, and logistics services. We pride ourselves on putting the world in your hands and delivering the globe to your door. With our extensive international logistics network, we possess the expertise and resources to support your shopping requirements worldwide. Our commitment to exceptional customer service sets us apart from other shipping companies, ensuring a seamless experience from the manufacturer's plant/warehouse to the customer's doorstep. When working with us, our clients can expect:

- Global reach
- Multi-modal services
- Real-time shipment visibility solutions
- Competitive pricing
- Superior customer service, security, and quality
- Strict adherence to compliance standards

Our services provide comprehensive support for day-to-day purchasing operations, including purchase order processing and ensuring compliance with preferred suppliers. Our company was founded with the mission to address and resolve client inquiries at the initial stage of the supply chain process. Clients can rely on us to handle various tasks such as forwarding shopping or planning requests, registering orders, processing payment for purchases, requesting additional bids, or inquiring about a range of other services.

We facilitate and oversee the entire process from sourcing raw materials to delivering finished products, connecting suppliers and user companies along the way. Both internal and external functions play a crucial role in enabling the value chain to produce goods and provide services to customers. Our responsibilities include planning, administration, coordination, and control of activities, resources, and information involved in the flow of materials and products from the source to the final customer.

Our company comprises various departments that handle everything from material procurement to customer service. We engage in activities related to acquiring, storing, and utilizing inventory (materials) in production, as well as managing transit and delivery to customers. Our supply chain management activities encompass forecasting demand, selecting suppliers, placing material orders, managing inventory, scheduling production, and ensuring efficient shipping and delivery to the end client.

Our global leadership is a result of our widespread presence, combining local and international expertise. While our primary contracting centers are in the USA, we have established local and representative offices across Europe and Asia. With offices in 10 countries worldwide, we have built our reputation on extensive market intelligence and years of successful operations. Our commitment to honesty and integrity has solidified our position as an ethical and dependable partner.

In order to enhance our support for international customers, we have made the strategic decision to expand our infrastructure by establishing additional customer service offices in the US. This expansion aims to provide even better service and cater to the needs of our global clientele.

Our service involves searching, purchasing, transporting, processing, packaging, storing, selling, financing and supplying of household goods for Individual and Business customers.

We specialize in facilitating the seamless movement of the appropriate products into a facility, ensuring timely delivery and adherence to pre-defined standards of quantity, quality, and price. Our services encompass purchasing and logistics, catering to the needs of both organizations and individuals.

Our involvement spans various areas, including:

- Routine buying situations
- Logistics functions
- Managing supplier-customer relationships
- Problem-solving
- Coordinating customer needs
- Facilitating electronic funds transfers
- Providing general insurance coverage

Through our comprehensive range of services, we aim to streamline procurement and logistics processes, ensuring efficient and satisfactory outcomes for our clients.

The exchange of information between sellers and buyers is a crucial function of the market, facilitated by various channels such as the internet, trade association newsletters, press releases, research reports, communication with sales representatives, and visits to markets and wholesale distributors. Our company enables clients to conveniently access and communicate with all segments of the market, providing them with valuable insights and connections. Through our services, we strive to enhance information flow and promote effective engagement between buyers and sellers in the market.

We offer our clients the convenience of avoiding the need to personally meet with sales representatives, saving them valuable time. Additionally, we streamline paperwork and administration processes in the purchasing section, further enhancing efficiency. Our extensive knowledge of various contractors, delivery schedules, and special conditions related to the supply of local vendors is a vital aspect of our business. By leveraging this expertise, we ensure smooth operations and enable our clients to focus on their core activities with confidence.

We are a highly skilled team specializing in product procurement and global sourcing, dedicated to securing the best deals for our clients. By leveraging our expertise, clients can enjoy lower prices while streamlining their purchasing process. We take the burden off their shoulders, allowing them to save time and focus on their personal lives instead of dealing with purchase orders, price comparisons, vendor issues, and paperwork. Our clients have the freedom to negotiate and purchase goods and services from vendors worldwide. We assist them in selecting a comprehensive list of vendors for various categories, ensuring that their quality standards are met. Our company conducts extensive market research to identify reliable vendors who can supply the desired products. With our support, clients can confidently navigate the procurement process and obtain the best value for their needs.

Our service methods are customized to suit each organization's needs, considering factors like policies, budget, and vendor location. We prioritize quality standards and ensure a smooth flow of goods. We employ effective practices such as order tracking, error reduction, and real-time monitoring. With reliable visibility into the supply chain, we manage demand changes and address any issues promptly.

We achieve profitability by leveraging increased volume purchasing and lower prices, attracting more customers. Our primary objective is to ensure the timely delivery of materials from reliable sources, meeting quality standards and competitive pricing. Customer satisfaction is our top priority, and we welcome feedback to continually enhance our services.

EW SOURCING ENTERPRISES, LLC

EIN #: 93-4138391

ID#: 2915147

Office: 225 W 39th St New York, NY 10018, United States

Phone: +1 718 593 4348

www.ew sourcingint.com