Overview

If you've ever wanted an SUV that can do it all, the 2024 Mercedes-AMG G63 comes awfully close—but at a steep price. A full redesign last year brought much-needed modernization to the G-class line while preserving the G-wagon's old-world styling and exceptional off-road capability. Whereas the standard Mercedes-Benz G550 is merely quick, the AMG-tuned G63 is insanely so: It is the heaviest SUV we've ever tested that could hit 80 mph in less than four seconds. All these talents come with a huge price tag, but when you consider the G63's wide-ranging talents, it almost seems like a bargain—if you're a millionaire.

Engine, Transmission, and Performance

The 2024 Mercedes-AMG G63 comes with a twin-turbocharged 4.0-liter V-8 engine that makes 577 horsepower and 627 lb-ft of torque. A nine-speed automatic gearbox with steering-wheel-mounted paddle shifters sends all that power to the all-wheel-drive system (4Matic, in Mercedes marketing lingo). Low-range gearing (2.93:1 reduction) is standard as are three locking differentials, allowing the G63 to scale steep dirt grades with ridiculous ease. At our test track, the nearly 5800-pound G63 rocketed from zero to 60 mph in just 3.9 seconds. Along with its extra power, the G63 has AMG-specific suspension tuning. Ride comfort is vastly improved versus older G-wagons, but given this SUV's towering height and off-road mission, you shouldn't expect much in the way of handling ability. And there's still quite a bit of wind noise at highway speeds. Properly equipped, the G63 can tow up to 6500 pounds.

Dear, [REDACTED]

We have seen where there is an outstanding Stamp of Releasing Fee required for the State of Washington. Which will cover your associated Fees. The Federal Trade Commission has seen where a certified cashier's check is to be claimed by you from the Publishers Clearing House Sweepstakes and Lottery Company in the amount of 18.5 Million dollars and a 2024 G63 Mercedes Benz, which has been left unclaimed for the past few days. There is an outstanding fee for you to take care of which also stands prior to your prize delivery. A table is provided below so that you can see the necessary fees. We are aware that this prize was supposed to be delivered for the past few days, but because of complications with government regulations, a hold was placed on your prize package. We are truly sorry for any inconveniences caused by this action.

[REDACTED] kindly get in contact with your agent ANDY GOLDBERG to make the required preparations for the delivery date and time of your winnings, thank you for your time and Corporation. Congratulations once more.
